The Story of Fatboy's

Started in 1999, Fatboy's Restaurant Group was founded with just a single location: Fatboy's Local Drive-In on tucked-away Republican Street in the Kalihi industrial area. It was here, then 26 years old local founder Carroll Ung with experiences in upscale hotels and restaurants, accounting and banking, along with his father John Ung with over 30 years cooking experience at the former Ilikai hotel, opened their 1st restaurant. Their main goal was to provide tasty, quality food prepared with love at reasonable prices. They also wanted a business filled with the aloha spirit.

This little 800 square feet take-out restaurant, in a challenging location, (with virtually no parking) became an instant hit with its concept of local favorites and daily gourmet specials. Meals were of generous portions and very reasonable prices. Industrial workers loved starting the day off at Fatboy's with a cup of coffee and local breakfast favorites like Loco-Moco & Fried Rice. Lunch became a bigger hit as crowds, besides the industrial ones in the area, started making the tricky trek to 2018 Republican Street for local lunch favorites like Garlic Chicken, Kalbi, Roast Pork, Hamburger Steak & Hamburgers. The biggest draw though, was the daily gourmet specials which included: Grilled Furikake Ahi with Wasabi Shoyu Butter Sauce, Egg Crusted Saute Mahi Mahi with Brown Butter Sauce, Baked Mushroom Chicken, Baked Penne Pasta, Coca-Cola Braised Pork Ribs. Guest enjoyed the fact that they could get similar fare offered at up-scale restaurants and hotels, but in a plate-lunch setting at Fatboy's.

Today, 16 years later, Fatboy's Restaurant Group has grown quite a bit despite no longer having the original Kalihi location. With today's changing diets and lifestyle, gone are the heaping portions that make you fall asleep, replaced by better quality ingredients all for the most part, created in-house. Fatboy's Local Drive-In has evolved into Fatboy's Hawaiian Style Plate-Lunch with locations in Kailua, Waipio and Koko Marina. And we're NOW OPEN in historic Halelwa too! Affiliated companies are Hibachi Market and Blue Tulips Catering.

The original goal remains the same; Creating quality food at reasonable prices. And providing experiences filled with aloha!
